What went really well or did you really like about this course?

Scale: Open question | 13 answers by 13 respondents

1. The small assignments really helped me think about the subject matter and they helped me understand how to write philosophically. I also liked the paper assignment because we got a lot of freedom. The lectures were well explained and interesting.
2. The lecturer and the way he was teaching the new information every lecture.
3. I think the lectures were very organised and thought out. The content was very interesting.
4. Excellent lecturer, interesting topics and good course structure
5. The teacher was very nice to listen to and he had very clear ways of telling us the materials
6. The lecturer made the content more understandable through his lectures (the readings were, sometimes, very difficult). It is not an easy course, but by bringing tangible examples and clear explanation, Miguel has made it easier to follow.
7. .
8. I really liked the small assignments and the tutorials on Tuesdays
9. I really enjoyed the ethics and morality parts of the course + Miguel is a really engaging teacher and he actually explains philosophical concepts with "human" words which I appreciate
10. I liked the way the course was organised with the 11 small assignments because it really helped me understand the readings and put their information into practice. It was a good choice to set the course up like this because I feel like I know exactly what my strengths and weaknesses are because of the feedback I got on the small assignments.
11. I really liked how he slowly explained something and kind of 'build up' the explanation.
12. The teacher really explained it clearly.
13. I like philosophy in general and this course was a really engaging and clear to me

What could be improved about this course?

Scale: Open question | 7 answers by 7 respondents

1. The small assignment now only account for 10% of the final grade, and I think they were worth more than that.
2. All the assignments and the exam of the course except the weekly ones are really close together. Maybe a little more apart next time.

3. Not much. Give the professor a raise or promotion.

4. We had lots of things to do. First of all, we had weekly assignments starting from the first of September and until two weeks ago. Then, we had to write a 500-word paper, and create a PowerPoint, and present. Lastly, we have an exam. I don't think the other 6 etc courses have this much work. I am not satisfied with this and really tired. It felt like it is 12 etc.

5. The way it is graded seems a little off to me, the weekly assignments are worth essentially nothing, though they reflect understanding of essentially all of the course material whereas the paper and presentation are worth 30% despite only really rehashing one of the concepts in two different formats

6. i cannot think of something right now

7. The speed of going through the slides during the lectures,

The lecturer explained the subject matter clearly.
